

LEAFNOTE

A R E A D I N G J O U R N A L

August 28, 2026

Dear Priya,

I have just finished reading “The Midnight Library” by Matt Haig, and it stayed with me — so I wanted to write my thoughts down for you while they are still fresh.

Between life and death there is a library, and within that library, the shelves go on forever.

This book found me at exactly the right moment. Nora Seed's regrets felt like my own, and every door she opened asked the quiet question we all carry: what if I had chosen differently?

It is gentle without being soft, and it stayed with me for days after the final page. I kept handing it to people in my head, thinking — yes, this is the one you need right now.

My rating for this one — loved it: ★★★★★

A FEW CHARACTERS WORTH MEETING

— Nora Seed (Protagonist)

Carries a whole life of regret, then learns to weigh each one honestly.

— Mrs Elm (Mentor)

The librarian who guides Nora with patience and a chessboard.

Warm regards,

Asha
